

GASTON ENTERS
OBJECTIONS TO
H.W. WOLFINGTON

Objections to H. W. Wolfington, East Middle street, serving as a trustee in the reorganization of the Inductive Equipment corporation were raised by John R. Gaston, Harrisburg, in a hearing Thursday afternoon before Walter H. Compton, a referee in bankruptcy for the Middle District of Pennsylvania.

Held in the U.S. court house at Harrisburg, the hearing was to hear any objections to the naming of Wolfington and J. W. Hennessey, York, as trustees for the local company. No objections were raised against Hennessey.

Gaston, former president and general manager of the company, appeared with two Harrisburg attorneys to place his objections to Wolfington's serving in the reorganization of the company. His objections, in part, were based on whether Wolfington could qualify as a trustee under the bankruptcy statute because of the fact that Wolfington since May was general manager of the Inductive Equipment, had served as an officer of the company for some time previously and was a stockholder in the concern. Gaston said that Wolfington has purchased three shares of company stock at a nominal price as a matter of convenience to another party. He also raised a number of matters in regard to business relationships between Gaston and Wolfington.

Referee Compton asked attorneys for both sides to file briefs within the next week on the matter and said he will hand down his decision following a study of the briefs.

Attorneys Horace E. Smith, York, and Norman H. Harris, Scranton, represented Wolfington and Hennessey. Attorney Charles W. Wolf, Gettysburg, represented Inductive Equipment.

Next legal step for the company in its reorganization will take place in District court April 12 when it is to present a plan for getting the company back into active operation.

Say Reds Plot
Against Tito

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, March 9 (AP)—Yugoslavia formally accused Russia today of applying "military pressure" against her and with supplying the Soviet satellites with arms and troops with which to overthrow Marshal Tito's anti-communist government.

The charges were leveled in a 481-page white paper which a government spokesman said would be sent to United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie.

Deputy Foreign Minister Ivo Vojvoda summoned a special news conference, and told foreign correspondents the complaint is being handed to representatives of the western powers stationed in Belgrade.

Will Recondition
County Cemetery

The county home cemetery will be reconditioned this spring, Herbert J. Taylor, steward at the home said today.

Topsoil to level off the cemetery was ordered by the county commissioners last fall, Taylor said, and is due to arrive within the next few weeks. After the ground is leveled, grass is to be planted and then kept cut through the summer.

About 40 persons are buried in the plot. The most recent interment was made about two years ago. Burials now are made at a rate of less than one a year, Taylor said.

Burial of persons at the county home who die without funds, relatives or friends now is handled by the local Eagles lodge, Taylor said. The most recent burials have been transients who have died within the county and for whom no other provision can be made.

WEATHER BOX
FOUND ON FARM

Gettysburg firemen, who used a 35-foot ladder to remove a U.S. Weather bureau recording device from a tree near Mt. Carmel Wednesday afternoon, were not needed to rescue a similar instrument last Saturday on the Hunters-town road. It fell in a field.

The recorder, a miniature broadcasting set attached to a balloon and sent aloft by the Pittsburgh weather bureau, was carried to earth back of a barn on the farm of Charles Heyser, Gettysburg R. 4, two and a half miles from Gettysburg.

The radio sets, according to the Weather bureau, send out signals recording temperatures, moisture and air pressure during their ascent. The balloons which carry them aloft reach an altitude of about 12 miles before they burst.

William Heyser, 17, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heyser, owners of the farm, and a junior at Gettysburg high school, followed the instructions on the box and mailed the recorder to the Pittsburgh Weather bureau. The location of the farm, name of owner and other data was written on a card found in the box and returned with it.

Mrs. Heyser said the box and parachute were found about 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. She had no idea how long it might have been lying in the field. It was raining, but the parachute completely covered the box, protecting it and keeping it dry.

R. C. ANNOUNCES
DONATIONS BY ORGANIZATIONS

Donations to the current Red Cross fund campaign by 15 local organizations were announced today by the Red Cross with the Woman's club of Gettysburg leading the list by doubling its 1950 contribution. The club has donated $50 to the drive this year.

The importance of increases in donations over last year's figure was stressed today by Campaign Chairman Harry D. Ridinger who pointed out that this year's quota is $4,000 above the sum raised last year in this county.

"Our $14,000 goal is the absolute minimum that must be raised if the Red Cross program for 1951 is to be carried out in full in this county," he said. "Our participation in the blood donor program is at stake and if funds are not sufficient, the popular and very valuable summer water safety and swimming classes will have to be curtailed or omitted."

The organizations on today's list in addition to the Woman's club follow: Gettysburg Lions club, $125; First National bank of Gettysburg, $30; $25 each from Gettysburg National bank, the Lentz post of the American Legion, Gettysburg lodge of the Eagles, and the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company; $15 each from the Annie Danner club and the Gettysburg Rotary club; $10 each from the Gettysburg chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Cashtown Fire company, and the Bendersville National bank; and $5 from each of the following: Gettysburg VFW Auxiliary, Mary Gettys Rebekah lodge and the Women of the Moose.

Here And There
News Collected At Random

A new book on Pennsylvania's 100 Governors and the executive mansion by Lt. Col. Leroy V. Greene, of Camp Hill, will be published by Stackpole Books, Harrisburg, March 19. Colonel Greene is well known in Gettysburg having spoken here on several occasions. He represented Governor James at the dedication of the site for the proposed General Longstreet memorial on the Battlefield. He is a veteran newspaperman and served three Pennsylvania governors as press secretary or military aide.

The book is titled "Shelter For His Excellency." It is the result of twelve years of research work by the author, broken by a tour of military duty overseas in World War II. This informative, interest-holding narrative speeds through an account of the early Governors, describes the Revolutionary great who ruled the Commonwealth, and then turns to the long line of sturdy Pennsylvania Dutch "Excellencies," followed by the spectacular, life-long heroes of the Civil War who were general-turned-Governors.

Some were well known and others not so well known—some were forgotten altogether. Many went to greatness and glory and died with their boots on, while others plunged into sorrow, disgrace and oblivion, or died deaths of violence. There were adventurers, like Peter Minnet, and intellectual giants like Benjamin Franklin.

Readers will enjoy reading the answers to:

WHICH GOVERNOR . . . was one of the greatest all-time Americans?
... was the all-time undisputed champion playboy of them all?
... kicked a Justice of the Supreme Court in the seat of the pants?
... while still in office, was blown to sea, disappeared, and never heard from again?
... has gone down in history under the wrong name?
... weighed 400 pounds live weight?
... had but one leg?
... was the first to complain about the "ingratitude" of the citizens?
... was the first to die in office.

STOLEN BIKE IS RECOVERED

A bicycle stolen at noon Thursday from in front of the Gettysburg Hardware store, Baltimore and West Middle streets, was recovered later in the afternoon, and the case of the boy who took it was slated to go to juvenile court, borough police said.

State police of the Gettysburg substation received a telephone call at 1:30 o'clock that a boy was seen riding a new bicycle on the Lincoln highway west of Gettysburg. They contacted borough police. At 2:10 p.m. Calvin Shank, proprietor of the hardware store, reported the bicycle stolen.

The investigation which followed, conducted by both borough and state police working together, revealed that the youngster who took the bike lived near Arendtsville. When questioned, he first said that another boy had given him the bicycle.

Police recovered it and returned it to Mr. Shank.

MORE MONEY IS NEEDED TO BUY
PROJECTOR FOR COUNTY HOME

The Adams County Home Auxiliary needs additional funds to purchase a motion picture projector for the county home. It is also seeking bed-tables, for the inmates. Both needs were outlined Thursday afternoon at the regular meeting of the auxiliary held at the county home. Forty-eight attended the meeting.

Mrs. William K. Sundermeyer, movie chairman for the auxiliary, reported that movies were shown under the sponsorship of local organizations at the county home twice during the past month, and that present arrangements call for showing films at least twice monthly for the next several months.

$200 Donated
She reported that so far $200 has been donated toward purchase of a projector and screen for the home. Donations to the projector fund so far include $75 from the Gettysburg Moose, $50 each from the local Elks and American Legion and $25 from the Eagles. Letters are to be sent, she added, to other organizations asking donations.

Harry Stauffer, heading a committee studying furniture needs at the county home, reported that at least three of the county home guests would like to have bureaus in their rooms. He said there is a need for bed stand type tables that can be swung across beds for use of ill or bedfast guests.

The auxiliary is also seeking four phonographs, or record players, to be placed in the four sitting rooms at the county home.

Members discussed the possibility of seeking donations for trinkets and other articles to be sold at a bazaar to be held at the county home.

Mrs. Ira Henderson, chairman of birthday activities, reported that monthly birthday parties are being held at the home. At present time gifts are being given by organizations and distributed at the parties. An attempt is being made, she said, to interest 80 persons in the county to each "adopt" one guest at the home as their "special friend" and provide personalized birthday gifts on the anniversaries.

Mrs. Hope Morgan, Cashtown, reading committee chairman, reported that sufficient persons have volunteered to provide reading service for those wanting it at least once a week. The service is provided for those who are unable to read, or prefer someone to read to them.

Membership Is 85
Miss Margaret McMillan, membership chairman, reported present membership in the auxiliary at 85, and representation from 34 organizations in the county.

Mrs. R. S. Saby reported plans to place articles concerning activities of the local auxiliary in the Pennsylvania Welfare magazine to interest other counties in forming auxiliaries for their county homes. So far only two such auxiliaries have been formed in the state.

The regular meeting date for the organization was changed to the second Thursday of each month. President Richard Summer presided at the meeting.

OBVIOUS NONDISCOVERIES

It amazes one to think of the obvious things that are yet to be discovered—things that are of our everyday life. Samuel Butler called attention to the fact that the hinge, now in common use, was a late discovery, yet it existed before the eyes of the world in every arm and leg since man was created.

Discoverers owe more to Nature than any other source. Inventors likewise. We have in nature most of the example of our progress, as exemplified in the birds of the air and the fishes of the sea. Man has always borrowed, without end, from nature. No expert costumer or designer of women's clothes has ever been able to compete with the magic bird creatures of New Guinea—the blue birds of Paradise in all their varieties, the Sicklebill, and others. They are examples of beauty truly "out of this world."

We have our colors from the Rainbow, and from Snowflakes, exquisite designs, as well as both colors and designs from endless varieties of plants and flowers. From the animals and fishes have come our ideas of protective instruments of warfare. Nature forever first!

Yet with all that we have learned and profited from Nature, there still remain endless other discoveries that are sure to prove as obvious for usefulness and adaptation as all those which we now have duplicated. In several of New York's great department stores I have seen beautiful examples of drift-wood being used as a decoration in connection with many exhibits.

Sharp eyes and a thinking brain have often produced miracles for the blind and unthinking that were in the first place the property of all. The late D. R. Carver discovered anew the great value that was contained in the peanut and other products that had never been tested. One day, at a small gathering, he made up some grass sandwiches for their lunch!

Penicillium was an easy discovery, yet it remained dormant until an alert mind reasoned and proved its obvious usefulness. Other discoveries sleep as soundly as did penicillium, awaiting the hand that will disturb their slumber!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Table Talk."

TOO SILENT
My father told me long ago:
"Get this into your head,
Regret and shame you'll never know
For what you haven't said.
No fist in rage is ever swung
At any man who holds his tongue."

He bade me practice, day by day,
The art of keeping still.
"If you stay silent, then you may Think freely what you will.
Have eyes and ears wide open, but Remember keep your big mouth shut."

I must have learned the art too well,
For now the women scold
Because I didn't think to tell
The things I should have told.
They call me "Clam" and "Mr. Dumb."
For minding Dad and keeping mum.

LONELY HEARTS
PAIR EXECUTED

Ossining, N. Y., March 9 (AP)—Lonely hearts killers Martha Beck, 31, and Raymond Fernandez, 36, died last night in Sing Sing prison's electric chair, calm and dignified and pledging an undying love for each other.

Mrs. Beck was the last of four persons executed in the space of 24 minutes.

She entered the high, bare death chamber unassisted, squeezed into the tight-fitting chair with difficulty and smiled ever so faintly at the two attending matrons.

"So long" formed on her lips, but her voice was silent.

Four minutes earlier, the prison doctor had muttered "I pronounce this man dead" over the body of Fernandez, her partner in murder-for-profit.

First Quadruple Execution
It was Sing Sing's first quadruple execution in four years.

The parade of death began with John J. King, 22, of Long Island City, sentenced for the holdup-murder of William H. Hupe, 29, airline radio operator, last March.

Richard Power, 22, sentenced for the same crime, was the second to die. He went quietly, his hands folded and his eyes closed. He seemed to be praying.

A few hours before Mrs. Beck and Fernandez died, they issued statements through Mrs. Beck's lawyer.

Lt. Gilbert Sails
For Prison In U. S.

Tokyo, March 9 (AP)—Lt. Leon A. Gilbert, whose death sentence was commuted recently to life imprisonment by President Truman, is on his way to a federal penitentiary in the United States, the Army disclosed today.

Gilbert, a company officer in the 24th Infantry Regiment, was convicted by court martial of refusing to obey orders to attack with his unit near Sanju, Korea, July 31.

The negro officer was tried early in September and the court's sentence of death was approved September 26 by Maj. Gen. William B. Kean, commander of the 25th Division. The sentence was commuted to life by the President.

The lieutenant's wife, Mrs. Kay Gilbert, lives at York, Pa. Gilbert sailed from Japan March 6 aboard the transport Gen. William Mitchell. The prison in which he will be confined was not disclosed.

It is estimated that there are more than 50,000 lumber mills now operating in the United States.

SAYS HE CUT UP WIFE'S BODY AND DISPOSED OF IT

Scranton, Pa., March 9 (AP) — Charles E. Fremeyer, brought back from the west coast to answer forgery charges, told police he cut up the body of his wife Anna, disposed of the parts, but said she died of natural causes.

The 53-year-old Homeyer's admission yesterday cleared up a long standing mystery of what happened to the woman.

Major Charles J. McRae of the state police said Homeyer insisted he did not kill his wife, who was some 12 years his senior, but found her dead in bed nearly a year ago.

Homeyer's statement came after police uncovered a human skull and part of a pelvis bone, embedded in concrete in the cellar of a Factoryville, Pa., house, Homeyer and the woman, a one time circus aerialist, lived in the house for some time prior to her disappearance. Factoryville is 25 miles west of here.

Wed Six Others
McRae said Homeyer told him he dismembered the body in a bathtub, then disposed of its parts at Delaware River Gap and in the Susquehanna river near Owego, N. Y. Homeyer said nothing about the secreting of any parts in the cellar.

Authorities said they first understood the woman, known as both Anna Snellman and Anna Homeyer, was Homeyer's common law wife. But yesterday Homeyer said he married her in 1944 at Florence, S.C. He told police also that he had been married to six other women. That was after several "lonely hearts" letters had been found in his possession.

In Los Angeles, one of the women he married, 42-year-old Mrs. Emma Anderson Homeyer, said she became his bride last fall. She said, too, that she waited 25 years to marry the "perfect man," and believed she had found him at last in Homeyer. Ho-

JESUS ASSERTS HIS AUTHORITY

Mark 11:11, 15-19; 12:28-31
Memory selection: Mine house shall be called a house of prayer for all peoples—Isaiah 56:7.

All through his public ministry Jesus astounded men by the use of unusual power. People asked one another, and Him, whence this power came. By whose authority? That was a frequent question. His enemies asked it. His friends wondered at the remarkable things the Master did, and honestly inquired.

Now, during the week of the great Passover Festival, Jesus asserted Himself. In his own right, always supported by the Father, He revealed his moral and spiritual authority.

Our Lord chose to make a royal entrance into Jerusalem on what we now call Palm Sunday. Various reasons have been put forward as to why He permitted and encouraged this dramatic entrance. Some, who never grasped the meaning of it, say it was the last attempt to have the people hail Him as King, and so prevent his crucifixion. This implies that Jesus would like to have been recognized as a popular political leader. Such ideas about the royal entry are, of course, wrong. He might have seized mere political leadership, now or on former occasion, but then He would have been only that and not the Messiah. So Jesus entered the Holy City to the shouts of the multitude. He was hailed spontaneously by those who saw in Him the King of compassion, whose teachings and works of love were remembered. There was also a note of defiance to his foes in the royal entry. Right into the citadel of the Scribes and Pharisees Jesus rode in triumph.

Christ As Reformer

What He saw that day in the temple courts raised the Lord's indignation. There must have been a state of confusion. There, in the Court of the Gentiles, was a regular market place where sheep, oxen, doves and other animals were sold to those who would offer sacrifices. In addition to these merchants there were money changers, for only currency of the city and country was permitted for worship purposes. The practice of having on hand animals for sacrificing in the approach to the Temple was conducted for the sake of convenience. So was the money changing. But it was easy for corruption to intrude.

Greed led merchants to be unfair in prices they charged for goods. Money changers would even short change the customers. And through it all developed commotion entirely out of keeping with any part of the Temple. The sharp and observing eye of Jesus detected all this religious sacrilege, and on the following day addressed Himself to the condition: "My house shall be called of all

The Bible.....AND ARITHMETIC

Remember how hard arithmetic seemed when we tried to learn it from our textbooks? Then the teacher would put a few examples on the blackboard—and suddenly it wasn't hard at all. Some people think the Bible is a difficult book to understand. But it's just like arithmetic....

When you learn how to use your Bible, how to apply its truths to the problems of every-day life, then the lessons of the Bible become clear and simple. Suddenly you find it hard to realize that there was ever a day when this GREATEST OF ALL BOOKS seemed strange to you.

Our churches are our best teachers of Biblical truth and its application to life. In sermon, hymn, prayer, and lesson, they attune our lives to the riches of God's Word.

There's a Bible in your home. Is it in your life?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Great Commandment

Jesus revealed His authority for the third time. A scribe well versed in civil and religious law, observing that Jesus "answered well" in his disputations asked a question, "Which is the first commandment of all?" Then came the authoritative answer which is a summary of the Ten Commandments: Love to God first, and after that, love to man, "thy neighbor." The two are alike. Supreme love to God with heart, soul, mind and strength; love for man as great as love of yourself.

Obedience to the Law is based on love, and not on fear, according to our Lord's final comments. Let one's love toward God be so complete and genuine as to shut out all lesser affections, then one will have no great difficulty in his true love for his neighbors. All men have always been neighbors in the meaning of the Commandment. But men now are closer neighbors than ever before, since distances have been lessened. All the more reason there is, consequently, that the Great Commandment should be the more faithfully observed.

Questions on the S. S. Lesson

- On whom did Jesus rely?
- Over what would Jesus reign?
- Why was the Temple "cleansed"?
- On what are the Commandments based?
- What parable described the "good neighbor"?

Answers

- The Father, God.
- The spiritual lives of men.
- To restore proper worship.
- On love.
- The Good Samaritan.

Littlestown JAYCEE GAMES TUESDAY NIGHT

The curtain will be officially rung down on Littlestown basketball Tuesday evening on the Littlestown high school gym floor when the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce will meet the Hanover Hornets in the feature game of a twin bill being sponsored by the Littlestown Jaycees.

These teams met recently in a game on the McSherrystown Knights of Columbus floor and in a very close ball game the Hanover Hornets defeated the Jaycees 71-65.

The preliminary game, matching the senior and junior boys of the L.H.S. intra-mural league, will start at 7 o'clock. The price for adults is 30 cents and children, 15 cents. Proceeds from the games will go into the Jaycee treasury to help promote worthwhile community projects in Littlestown.

The Littlestown Jaycees will celebrate their first birthday in April. They have been very active on a community betterment program. Last June they sponsored a music festival, which netted the Littlestown Memorial field fund $1,750.05. In September they staged a Littlestown's Old Timers baseball game from which they realized $122.03 for the same fund. In December, they sponsored the Christmas lighting and decorating contest, which brought much favorable comment from town folk. In February the Jaycees promoted two basketball games for the benefit of the high school band uniform fund. From these two cage contests the sum of $120 was acquired.
